EDITORIAL

Director John Tiah Nagbe should resign

THE DIRECTOR OF the National Identification Registry (NIR) John Tiah Nagbe should clear his desk immediately and leave office to enable him focus on his senatorial bid for Maryland County.

IT IS NOT only disappointing but highly disgusting that Director Nagbe, who heads a crucial institution such as the National Identification Registration that certifies citizenship thru identification in readiness to participate in elections and other activities, recently abandoned his job in Monrovia and went to his native Maryland County in the southeast to pre-campaign for the senate.

UNARGUABLY, IT IS his constitutional right as a Liberian citizen to contest for any public office. However, occupying the office of Director of the N.I.R and campaigning for an elected position, using salary from taxpayers, vehicles, gasoline and other amenities from the State is a conflict-of-interest issue. Besides, it is unfair to other would-be aspirants in the county.

DIRECTOR NAGBE SHOULD realize that being a member of the ruling Congress for Democratic Change does not give him right to breach the law.

THE N.I.R BOSS recently defied deplorable roads leading to the southeast and arrived in Maryland on Saturday, April 16, to a rousing welcome from citizens and supporters.

“MARYLANDERS, YOU have seen what have come to you in those years, if you will stay here and elect some of these same people to power, who have not done anything for the county, blame yourselves.

LET ME SAY to you my fellow Marylanders, if we want to still enjoy this great opportunity as southeasterners, let us support all CDC candidates come 2023”, he told citizens.

ELECTIONS ARE BARELY 17 months away, and the work of the National Identification Registration is crucial to registering eligible voters and candidates, and for Director Nagbe to turn his back on all of these to go pre-campaigning is a serious disservice both to the State and Liberians generally.

WE KNOW FOR ruling CDCians, this does not mean anything, as long as it is aimed at perpetuating themselves in power. But such poor administrative judgement or decision could cause serious problem at the N.I.R., if it hasn’t already.

NAGBE AND ALL officials currently in government should never take the Liberian people for a ride. Liberians are not stupid. They are watching the quality of leadership being provided by the current administration.

ABANDONING THE JOB for which he is being paid and well-taken care of to go pre-campaign is an affront to the State and taxpayers. He should step down immediately to give way to a more serious-minded person for the job.

Why Do We Obey the Law?

CAMBRIDGE - Ketanji Brown Jackson’s confirmation as a justice of the US Supreme Court has been hailed as a breakthrough for Black Americans and other minority communities, for women and mothers, for public defenders, and even for those who went to public school. But the biggest winner is the Supreme Court itself.

According to Gallup, more Americans now disapprove of the Supreme Court than approve of it. With public confidence in the institution having fallen from 62% in 2000 to 40% in 2021, legal scholars and political scientists warn of a crisis of legitimacy. Yet support for Jackson’s confirmation was 66%, the highest for any nominee in over a decade.

Although the Court is not supposed to be a “popular” institution, public perceptions still matter, because they bear on a question - and a mystery - with which legal philosophers have been grappling for millennia: Why do people obey the law? Or, put another way: What gives the law - and legal institutions - authority?

In the natural law tradition of Thomas Aquinas, law was conflated with religion and thus derived its authority from the same source as religious diktats: God. But the question becomes trickier in a secular context. According to legal positivists (the most widely accepted account), the “pedigree” - or the institutional origin - of law is what gives it force and sets it above a rule or norm. But this argument creates a chicken-or-egg problem, because one is left with the question of how an institution becomes legally authoritative if not through the power of law.

Legal positivists concede that their explanation requires an “internal point of view.” Hence, whatever theory of law one subscribes to, there is always a psychological element underpinning the functioning of any legal system. Without acceptance by enough individuals, the institution cannot persist. Public confidence - or popularity - thus turns out to be at the very core of the rule of law.

In theory, the positivists’ “internal point of view” could be sustained by morality (believing that there is a moral obligation to obey the law), coercion (obeying the law for fear of the consequences of not doing so), or plain old habit (unthinkingly complying with the law because that is the norm). But as Tom R. Tyler of Yale Law School argues, respect for the law and its institutions is a much stronger motivation than fear of punishment. Tyler’s work shows how we can get from an equilibrium of mere compliance (where people reluctantly abide by the minimum of what the law asks of them) to a culture of cooperation (where people are intrinsically motivated to participate eagerly in society and its legal institutions).

For a rule-of-law institution to succeed, it must account for both the context in which it operates and the cognitive priors of its participants. Or, more to the point, the Supreme Court must adapt to the changing social, political, and demographic realities of the country it serves; and it must contend with the ever-evolving mosaic of experiences and worldviews represented in the American populace.

To this extent, Jackson’s confirmation could bolster the Court’s waning affective appeal. Research has established that Black representation on the bench leads to a greater perception of legitimacy among Black Americans.

The philosopher Martha C. Nussbaum has argued that “political emotions” are crucial to the coherence of political communities. Likewise, the rule of law depends on “legal emotions,” such as a sense among those bound by a legal system that both its letter and spirit are fit for purpose.

The transformation of an apparently demure Rutgers University legal academic into the “Notorious RBG” was a case in point. Ruth Bader Ginsburg’s widespread appeal injected the US judicial system with a surge of legitimizing energy, appealing to many who might otherwise have been impervious to the binding force of law.

The purpose of law is not to terrorize us into obedience; rather, it is to inspire us to become engaged and active citizens. To the extent that she has captured the public imagination, Jackson’s addition to the Supreme Court could be a boon to the broad-based public support upon which the law ultimately depends.

Institutions are inherently fragile. The ransacking of the US Capitol on January 6, 2021, was a sobering reminder of how quickly institutions and norms can unravel. On the other side of the Atlantic, Prime Minister Boris Johnson’s flippancy toward - and flagrant violation of - COVID regulations that stifled the lives of ordinary Britons has exposed 10 Downing Street, the seat of the British government, to attack. So far, public outrage has been directed at Johnson - but the anger could easily mutate into disenchantment with the law itself.

When it comes to the Supreme Court, the institution’s standing has been undermined not just by the political theater that has come to define the confirmation process but also by the increasingly regressive, partisan decisions that it has handed down in recent years. American conservatives frequently profess their love for the “rule of law.” But with only three Republicans supporting Jackson’s confirmation, despite her overwhelming popularity, conservatives are undermining the very institution that they claim to hold sacred.

As Jackson put it after her confirmation, “It has taken 232 years and 115 prior appointments for a Black woman to be selected to serve on the Supreme Court of the United States, but we’ve made it.” I would argue that the “we” in that sentence can apply to the entire judicial system. Jackson’s appointment is not simply an overdue victory for minority communities. It also represents the start of a paradigm shift for the majority. Jackson is not just a Black woman hero. She is an all-American one who should have been treated accordingly from the start.

We have not fully solved the mystery of why we obey the law. But Jackson’s confirmation gives us a powerful additional reason for doing so.

PLAINTIFF'S COMPLAINT

AND NOW COMES PLAINTIFF, in the above entitled Cause of Action and Complains of the Defendant in the following manner and form as showeth to wit:

- That the Plaintiff and the Defendant were joined together in the bond of Holy Matrimony on the 11th day of May, A. D. 2019 at the St. Peter Lutheran Church on 14th Street in Sinkor in the City of Monrovia, Republic of Liberia.
- That they (Plaintiff and Defendant) lived together in tolerable peace and happiness as husband and wife until sometime in July, 2020 when the Defendant became unmindful of her marital vows and covenants; and without any justification or excuse, became extremely quarrelsome and pugnacious to the extent that the Plaintiff can no longer continue this relationship and has therefore decided, after some somber reflection, to institute this Action of Divorce to end this marriage.
- That the Plaintiff has done everything humanly possible for his wife to change her unacceptable behavior and attitude towards him as her husband in an attempt to save their marriage to no avail and has painfully realized that it would be in the best interest of both Plaintiff and Defendant to annul and dissolve this marriage.
- That the Plaintiff has kept his marital vows inviolate and has faithfully lived up to his side of their marital contract.
- That should this marital bond continue, Plaintiff's life will be extremely uncomfortable as Defendant has proven her flagrant and total disregard for their marriage.

WHEREFORE AND IN VIEW OF THE FOREGOING FACTS AND CIRCUMSTANCES, Plaintiff has instituted this suit and prays judgment against the Defendant, annulling and dissolving the Contract of Holy Matrimony which now subsists between the Plaintiff and the Defendant; and declare them two separate and distinct persons, both in law and in equity, as though no such Contract ever existed between them. Plaintiff further prays Your Honor and this Honorable Court to grant unto Plaintiff such other and further relief(s) as justice and justice and equity demand within the pale of the law; and so prays.

La Commission électorale nationale demande à l'UP de saisir la Cour Suprême

La Commission électorale nationale (NEC) a demandé au Parti de l'unité de saisir la Cour suprême, car, concernant les questions constitutionnelles, elle seule en est compétente.

L'organe électoral est donc resté indécis quant à savoir s'il faut permettre ou non à l'UP et à l'All Liberian Party (ALP) de présenter des candidats à l'élection candidats à l'élection sénatoriale de Lofa quand même ils se sont déjà retirés de cette plate-forme de l'opposition.

Mais l'UP insiste sur le fait qu'il n'est pas signataire du document-cadre controversé de la CPP d'où il ne peut être tenu par ses textes.

Le leader politique de l'Alternative National Congress (ANC), M. Alexander B. Cummings, est actuellement jugé après avoir été accusé par est.

Il a en outre indiqué que bien que cette question ait suscité un intérêt public substantiel, il convient de noter que les documents constitutifs des partis politiques ne sont pas rédigés à la barre du forum administratif.

Selon lui, la question de savoir si un accord politique est mieux ficelé ou pas doit être posée aux partis politiques signataires de cet accord.

Il a poursuivi en disant quant à savoir si un accord est constitutionnel ou inconstitutionnel, seule l'honorable Cour suprême du Libéria en a la compétence.

Il a expliqué que la Cour suprême a jugé que lorsque des questions constitutionnelles sont correctement soulevées devant un tribunal de première instance, le tribunal doit recueillir des preuves sur les questions factuelles avant de pouvoir certifier la question constitutionnelle à la Cour suprême.

« En conséquence, et compte tenu de ce qui précède, et afin de permettre à la Cour suprême d'examiner éventuellement les questions constitutionnelles soulevées dans ce dossier, il est interdit à la Commission électorale nationale de prendre toute autre mesure concernant toute approbation ou autre documents présentés par le défendeur concernant la qualification d'un candidat jusqu'à décision contraire, » a dit Me Swaray.

Entre-temps, l'UP et l'ALP ont fait part de leur exception à la décision du conseiller-auditeur et ont annoncé qu'ils feraient appel devant l'ensemble du Conseil des commissaires de la NEC.

Le 24 mars 2022, trois jours après le début du dépôt des dossiers de candidature à l'élection sénatoriale partielle du comté de Lofa, la CPP, par l'intermédiaire de l'ANC et du LP, a déposé une plainte auprès de la NEC comme quoi l'ALP et l'UP ont violé l'accord-cadre de la CPP.

L'ANC et le LP ont affirmé que l'UP et l'ALP n'ont pas respecté la procédure de retrait d'un parti membre de la CPP.

L'ANC et le LP, supposant que l'ALP et l'UP se sont retirés de la CPP, a invoqué l'article 8.5 (2) de l'accord-cadre de la CPP qui interdit à un ancien parti membre de présenter un candidat en son nom propre à une élection.

La Commission nationale du sida prise en flagrant délit

UN RAPPORT D'ENQUÊTE du Fonds mondial réfute l'affirmation du responsable du programme national de lutte contre le sida du ministère de la Santé qui état d'un montant total de 23 285 USD qui aurait été versé aux médias libériens pour des spots publicitaires, des relations publiques et des événements en février 2019.

LE FONDS MONDIAL a établi que le versement en question constitue en soi la preuve des pratiques frauduleuses et des conflits d'intérêts, car l'actionnaire a également occupé le poste de directeur des communications au ministère de la Santé.

EN MARS 2020, selon un rapport, un examen de l'audit interne du ministère de la Santé a révélé que l'attribution du contrat constituait un conflit d'intérêts, car il n'y avait pas de demande de devis et de preuve d'un processus d'appel d'offres. Il n'y avait que deux devis qui appartenaient à d'autres soumissionnaires, mais qui étaient datés après la signature du contrat avec des entités qui n'existaient pas physiquement.

LES RÉSULTATS NE sont qu'un bout de l'iceberg de la façon dont les institutions ici, tant publiques que privées, siphonnent les fonds budgétisés pour les activités médiatiques, soumettant les médias et la presse libérienne en général à la pauvreté, les forçant ainsi à faire faillite.

LES INSTITUTIONS PRIVÉES, les ONG, les ministères et les agences gouvernementales budgétisent chaque année des fonds pour des activités publicitaires qui n'atteignent jamais les médias, mais ils fournissent des rapports de performance indiquant que des fonds ont été dépensés pour les médias.

DÉTOURNER LES FONDS des médias revient à étouffer à mort les médias libériens, ce qui est une pure méchanceté. Pourtant, ces mêmes entités s'attendent à ce que les médias couvrent leurs programmes et activités publicitaires.

CERTAINES INSTITUTIONS CRUELLES vont même plus loin en plaçant des publicités dans les médias sans effectuer de paiement même après que les services ont été fournis, laissant les entités médiatiques en difficulté endettées et incapables de payer les impôts, le personnel, la location et d'autres engagements.

SOUVENT, LES MÉDIAS sont qualifiés de chien de garde et de quatrième pouvoir, mais les traitements infligés visent délibérément à saper sa puissance à la fois professionnellement et financièrement.

DANS L'AFFAIRE concernant le programme national de lutte contre le sida, le Fonds mondial révèle en outre que 19 paiements supplémentaires ont été effectués prétendument pour des publicités totalisant 32 918 dollars américains sans aucune preuve de scripts ou de fichiers audio des messages radio développés, ou de publicités livrées aux stations de radio, ou diffusées. Heureusement que ce manque de preuves de la prestation de services a également été noté par l'audit interne du ministère de la Santé.

EN PLUS DU fait que cela constitue un acte criminel, il décourage les donateurs. Ils pourraient ne plus soutenir les grands programmes de développement qui profitent directement aux Libériens ordinaires, en particulier les problèmes de santé critiques tels que le VIH et le sida.

COMME CELA EST triste ! C'est même aussi grandement honteux quand le NACP et le ministère de la Santé, qui devraient respecter la responsabilité et la transparence dans la gestion des fonds des donateurs, sont pris en flagrant délit de corruption et de vol au jour le jour contre les médias sur lesquels ces institutions s'appuient pour propager leurs programmes et politiques.

sénatoriale du comté de Lofa. L'auditeur de la NEC Me Fomba AM Swaray a toutefois ordonné à la commission de ne rien faire concernant ce dossier jusqu'à ce que la Cour suprême se prononce.

Dans sa décision du jeudi 21 avril 2022, Me Swaray a déclaré que quant à savoir si un accord entre des partis politiques est constitutionnel ou inconstitutionnel, seule la Cour suprême du Libéria en est compétente.

“En conséquence, cette enquête ne prend aucune décision sur les questions constitutionnelles soulevées respectivement par les plaignants et les accusés”, a déclaré l'auditeur.

Cela permettra à la Cour suprême d'examiner éventuellement les questions constitutionnelles soulevées dans cette affaire, selon lui.

Les partis politiques de l'opposition, dont l'ancien au pouvoir et l'ALP et une faction du Parti de la liberté présidée par M. Musa Bility, se livrent une bataille juridique sans merci née de la requête de Bility qui veut que l'UP et l'ALP soient empêchés de présenter des candidats à l'élection sénatoriale partielle de Lofa.

Bility fait valoir qu'une clause du document-cadre controversé de la Collaboration des partis politiques (CPP) empêche l'UP et l'ALP de présenter des le leader politique du Parti libérien Benoni Urey d'avoir prétendument falsifié le document-cadre de la CPP et d'avoir illégalement apposé sa signature sur une photocopie. Mais Cummings a toujours nié tout acte répréhensible.

Mais après des semaines d'audience à la NEC, Me Swaray a interdit à la NEC de prendre d'autres mesures concernant toute approbation ou tout autre document présenté par la faction du Liberty Party fidèle à Musa Bility et l'Alternative National Congress (ANC) de M. Alexander B. Cummings.

La faction LP de Bility et l'ANC restent à ce jour les seuls membres de la Collaboration des Partis politiques.

Me Swaray a affirmé que, conformément à la pratique et à la procédure de la NEC, lorsqu'un parti soumet un acte notarié, tel qu'un document constitutif à la NEC, la présomption est que celui-ci est valide et le reste jusqu'à ce qu'il soit contesté avec succès conformément à la procédure régulière ou par voie d'amendement par les parties.

Selon lui, c'est ce qui avait récemment été réaffirmé par le Conseil des commissaires en janvier 2022 et que, par conséquent, à moins que l'accord-cadre de la CPP déposé auprès de la NEC le 14 juillet 2020 soit modifié par les parties ou déclaré invalide par voie judiciaire, la NEC n'aura d'autre choix que de l'appliquer tel qu'il

CPP hails NEC decision

The remainder parties within the Collaborating Political Parties (CPP) have welcomed the decision by the National Election Commission (NEC) to refer the former ruling Unity Party to the Supreme Court to decide on whether it can field a candidate in Lofa or not.

In a statement issued over the weekend, Alternative National Congress (ANC) political leader Mr. Alexander B. Cummings who by default is now chair of the CPP said the ruling represents an important victory for the CPP and the Liberian people.

“Even at this level of consideration, and aware that the ruling is now a subject of an appeal, it still represents an important victory for the represented this falsehood to be true, to both the NEC and the Liberian people, when not only do we know this to be misleading, but those who made such claims knew them to be false.”

“The Alternative National Congress (ANC) and the Liberty Party (LP) were therefore forced into a public challenge of the UP and the ALP, which ordinarily we would have decided against doing,” Cummings added.

Cummings stated that the CPP is “mindful of not deepening the distrust and disunity in the opposition community, which will only benefit President Weah, whose administration has irredeemably failed the Liberian people.”

According to the Statement, Cummings is hopeful that the alternative to the failed leadership of President Weah, which the opposition seeks to provide the Liberian people, would be one of honesty, to be measured by truth-telling, however difficult it may be.

“I, Alexander B. Cummings, do not need to acquire political power by dishonor or deception. Even more importantly, I do not need to lead our people if it will not be to significantly change our country by uniting all of our people, ending the stealing by public officials, providing opportunities so that all Liberians have a chance to succeed in their own country, and remaking our society into a more just, equitable, secure and prosperous one,” the Special Statement of the Presumptive Standard Bearer of the CPP concluded.

The two parties-Liberty Party and the ANC last month wrote the NEC informing it of their resolve to invoke Section 8.5 (2) of the CPP framework document which prescribes the process by which a party can withdraw from the collaboration.

Section 8.5 (2) of the CPP document states: “Constituent party desiring to withdraw its membership from the Collaborating Political Parties (CPP), and the Liberian people”, he was quoted to have said.

“We cannot do the same things over and over, and still hope to get a different result. It is time to change so that leaders are held to higher standards of public accountability, and we act to preserve the rule of law.” Cummings explained.

“It was impossible to ignore the wholly false and deceptive representation to the NEC that the Unity Party (UP) and the All Liberian Party (ALP) “did not sign” the Framework Agreement of the CPP, cannot therefore be bound by its provisions, and that the framework document was a “product of fraud,” he added.

He further explained that the CPP “silence and inaction would have

It said the CPP remains “convinced that is how we will build the new future for our country that we seek - a future of commitment to the rule of law, and away from the ongoing political corruption and thievery that have bedeviled our country for far too long.”

The statement in further welcoming the ruling congratulated the efforts of the leaderships of the Liberty Party and the ANC for the uncommon courage to call out and challenge the falsehood of the UP and ALP.

“We do not fear contesting against anyone for a chance to lead our people. Liberians must freely and fairly decide who should lead them. That is how democracy ought to work. We will therefore fight untiringly to see that this happens,” the Statement indicated; adding: “But we also have a leadership duty, which cannot allow us to be an accomplice to deceiving the Liberian people either by falsehoods or by breaking promises, in the name of Collaboration Political Parties shall (First) exhausts the dispute resolution mechanism stipulated in this framework document. If the constituent party which has satisfied the dispute mechanism is not satisfied with the outcome, it shall file a resolution to withdraw from the CPP signed and duly executed by two-thirds (2/3) of membership of its National Executive Committee. It being understood that a party withdrawing from the alliance prior to the next presidential, legislative and local elections shall not field candidates in its name.”

The LP and the ANC which now comprises the CPP argued that the UP and the All Liberian Party of Benoni Urey did not follow these procedures and therefore, should not field any candidate with the Lofa by-election.

But the UP has continued to counter argue that it has since announced its withdrawal from the CPP and thus cannot be held by its rules.

authorities to restore pipe-borne water at the Monrovia Central Prison.

Mr. Jeety included in the project the installation of two 500 liters poly tanks for water storage along with a 5.5KVA generator for the supply of water whenever there is a power outage from the Liberia Electricity Corporation (LEC).

Upon completion of the project last year, the prison authorities expressed heartfelt thanks and appreciation to Mr. Jeety and his Jeety Trading Corporation for the level of support they have rendered to the prison.

Announcing an additional assistance on Sunday for corrections, Mr. Jeety assured on Sunday that there will be electricity at the Kakata prison facility in Margibi County.

“I assure you here [that] next time when we meet Kakata prison will have electricity,” said Mr. Jeety.

Earlier talking about the hot meal delivery exercise, Mr. Jeety said he carried nutritional meals for inmates to make them to feel a part of the society, while they are being held in detention.

“So [on] this backdrop, we have come again here to bring [a] hot cooked meals for almost 1,500 prisoners today,” he noted.

Mr. Jeety said he also encouraged some corporate officials to go along with him at the Monrovia Central Prison on the food distribution exercise.

Among his corporate colleagues who were seen helping to distribute hot cooked meal was the Managing Director of Guaranty Trust Bank (GT Bank), Mr. Ikenna Anekwe.

Prison Superintendent Col. Varney Lake thanked Mr. Jeety and his team for their continuous assistance to the inmates and Bureau of Corrections at large, especially for Mr. Jeety to abandon all of his activities on his birthday to identify with the inmates.

“It takes God to touch the heart of certain individuals to behave that way. So we are highly appreciative, we say happy birthday to you and may God richly bless you,” said Col. Lake.

-As Indian philanthropist continues with feeding inmates

Mr. Jeety along with corporate officials

India's immediate past honorary consul general to Liberia and philanthropist, Dr. Upjit Singh Sachdeva, affectionately called Mr. Jeety, says he has been given more energy to intensify his humanitarian work after he was cited in a recent United States Department of State report for assisting the Monrovia Central Prison (MCP) in its renovation work.

The report released recently said Liberia's Bureau of Corrections and Rehabilitation, "with the assistance of businessman Upjit "Jeety" Singh Sachdeva, undertook the renovation of the Monrovia Central Prison, which included the installation of 2,500-liter poly tanks for water storage along with a generator for the supply of water during a power outage."

In his reaction to the U.S. Department of State report, Mr. Jeety told journalists on Sunday, 24 April 2022 inside the Monrovia Central Prison compound that it gives him "more energy, more enthusiasm to do more."

His visit to the Monrovia Central Prison on Sunday was part of his routine delivery of hot meals to inmates, and the exercise also coincided with the observance of his birthday.

He said "when you are recognized, when you are appreciated," you feel honored, and it gives you more inspiration to do more.

"That's what encourages me to do every day more and more for the society," said Mr. Jeety.

Last year, Mr. Jeety put smiles on the faces of inmates and workers at the Monrovia Central Prison when he provided running water in all of the housing units, clinics, bakery and other sites that needed water at the prison compound.

It was in fulfillment of his commitment made in October 2021 to work with the relevant
